

38th International Congress on Electrocardiology

June 8th-11th 2011, Four Points Hotel by Sheraton, Kingston, Ontario, Canada

Welcoming letter

Dear Colleagues

It is our great pleasure to invite you to participate in The 38th International Congress on Electrocardiology to be held in Kingston, Ontario, Canada on June 8th-11th, 2011.

This is the annual meeting of the International Society of Electrocardiology which has had been very well-attended over the past several years. Our last meeting attracted participants from all around the world.

A diverse and experienced faculty will present a high-level conference with two and a half full day sessions of lectures, case presentations and workshops focusing on Electrocardiology and Electrophysiology.

The scientific sessions of the congress will cover a broad spectrum of topics, ranging from basic cellular processes to clinical applications. This year, special attention will be paid to the link between Electrocardiology and Electrophysiology.

A Young Investigator Competition will award the best abstract to investigators younger than 35 years of age.

The venue is located in the heart of Kingston, a small English-speaking city on Lake Ontario, positioned at the gateway to the world-famous 1000 Islands.. Kingston is home to Queen's University.

Kingston can be easily reached from the Toronto airport (Pearson) in less than one hour by air. There are five daily connections between Toronto and Kingston. There is also a Via train that connects Toronto (Union Station) with Kingston in an enjoyable ride of 2 ½ hours. Buses also travel between both cities. A beautiful 2 ½ hour drive is also an option.

Kingston offers a large variety of accommodations, from luxury to more affordable hotels and B&B.

Your registration will also include admission to the Gala night which will be held at Fort Henry, one of the pearls of old Kingston and a national historic site.

This meeting will provide a great opportunity to meet, collaborate, and socialize with other researchers from all around the globe.

We are looking forward to welcoming you to Kingston in 2011!

Adrian Baranchuk, MD FACC, Chair

Christopher S. Simpson, MD FRCPC FACC FHRS, Co-chair
